Immunization Action Month has begun. State Health Director J.M. Stubblebine, M.D. has sent a message to all local Health Officers stating the Center for Disease Control is planning a nationally coordinated Immunization Action Month. October 1973 has been designated as the month to heighten promotional activities directed toward the immunization of children. The State Health Department is participating in this needed effort and urges all counties to take full advantage of this national effort on a local basis. National Publicity has started in the form of informative ads in both lay magazines and medical and public health journals.

The State Scholarship and Loan Commission recently announced the opening of the competition of the sixth year of the College Opportunity Grant Program. College Opportunity Grants are primarily for disadvantaged students who plan to initiate their college education at a public community college. The College Opportunity Grant Program is for disadvantaged students with high potential but who are identified by factors other than test scores. Applications have been sent to all high schools within the State of California and completed applications must be submitted to the State Scholarship and Loan Commission, 1410 Fifth Street, Sacramento, CA 95814, postmarked no later than December 14, 1973.

The American Legion, Seaside POST #591, will be holding VETERAN'S DAY CEREMONIES at 10 a.m., Monday, October 22, at the Eternal Flame Site, Seaside City Hall. The public is invited. California Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, a primary critic of Governor Reagan's Tax Limitation Proposal, which will be presented to the voters on Nov. 6, will be at Monterey Peninsula College on Thursday, October 18, to make his views known in a center. The heart of Proposition One is the proposal that expenditures from state tax revenues be limited to their current percentage of state personal income and that this percentage decline by one-tenth of one per cent each year. By limiting the states income, the amount of state funds which could be expended would also be limited. Critics of the proposal say that local governmental agencies and school with taxing powers would have to ask for local tax levy increases to make up the alleged reduction in state support. For additional information contact Timothy Cox, 375-9821.

Iowa Legislator Richard Byerly and Graham Watt, Federal Director of Revenue in Washington, are the next two speakers in a Monterey Peninsula

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK

MAC'S MARKET

MAC' MARKET, Del Monte and English, was the target of the Seaside POST and News-Sentinel this week. This complete produce market is one of the most outstanding in the city of Seaside. Offering all all kinds of produce, Mac's has the friendliest cashiers and the biggest variety of produce on the Monterey Peninsula. Piloted by Jay Peterson, Mac's is open seven days per week from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

League Of Women Voters Urge No Vote On Proposition One

The League of Women Voters of the Monterey Peninsula, together with the California Ste League, most strongly urges all eligible voters to go to the polls on election day, November 6, and vote NO on Proposition 1. Proposition 1 is a complex initiative and it is difficult to make a decision about its value. "But one thing it is not. It is not a simple solution to one of the most pressing concerns of the electorate -- taxes -- and the League of Women Voters has not come lightly to its decision to oppose it," said Mrs. Alvin Andrus, President.

Soon after the

Educators Say Prop One Good

Dr. Wayne Barton, president of the statewide Professional Educators Group and chairman of Educators for Lower Taxes, recently said State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wilson Riles must have been under tremendous pressure to have opposed Proposition 1.

"I am deeply disappointed that Mr. Riles chose to ignore those distinguished educators who are convinced Proposition 1 would greatly benefit the people of California and would in no way harm education," Dr. Barton said.

"Mr. Riles has had an outstanding record of keeping partisanship out of his office, despite the fact that he is a Democrat. It must have taken tremendous pressure to have swayed him from that nonpartisan position -- especially when his most distinguished colleagues in education have exactly the opposite opinion of Proposition 1."

"It is not logical to suppose that the Reagan administration, which has done more for education in California than any previous administration, would support any plan that would harm education." "Under Proposition 1, there would be more than enough money not only to continue the present level of state support of education, but even to increase it if the legislature were willing."

"The Revenue Control and Tax Reduction Initiative also would write into the state constitution a prohibition against the state government shifting costs to local school districts -- or local government."

Dr. Barton is chairman of the Department of Engineering and an instructor at Sacramento City College. He holds a master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a doctorate from the University of the Pacific.

measure qualified for the ballot, the League declared its opposition, based on a 2-year study of state government revenues and taxation and on a study of the State Constitution. Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post, who has served as principal fiscal agent under the administration of both Republican and Democratic governors, has confirmed errors and inconsistencies in Proposition 1 which strengthen League objections.

In broad terms the League of Women Voters is opposed to Proposition 1 because: (1) It is to be a permanent part of the State Constitution. (2) The Initiative would make it nearly impossible to obtain a fairer sharing of taxes and to close tax loopholes. (3) It could bring a rapid decrease in essential state services.

To explain each item more fully, let us analyze the effects of each of these objections. First, it is to be a permanent part of the State Constitution. Proposition 1 would place in our State Constitution a legal, rigid and annually decreasing ceiling on state spending for the next 15 years. Would a wise family make a budget allowing a declining percentage of its income for housing for the next 15 years regardless of probable change and regardless of varying economic conditions?

The League believes in this changing world that proper allocation of expenditures cannot be achieved by rigid, inflexible, constitutional limitations. For this reason the League along with the Governor opposed the Watson

Military Week Picnic, Activities Are Rescheduled

The Military-Community Week "Olde Fashioned Picnic" has been rescheduled for Sunday, October 28 from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the Monterey County Fairgrounds.

The Picnic and Barbecue were cancelled on October 7 due to rain. If it should rain on the 28th, the Agricultural Building at the Fairgrounds has been reserved so we may continue with the barbecue, entertainment and awards ceremonies indoors.

Tickets given for the 7th will be good for the 28th. Everyone must have a ticket to get into the Fairgrounds or will be charged 50 cents per person at the gate. Tickets are available free at local merchants in Monterey, Pacific Grove, Seaside and Marina. The Chambers of Commerce of these cities know who still have tickets. Merchants who wish to obtain additional tickets should contact their Chamber of Commerce.

The V.I.P. Softball game will kick-off the day of fun at 12:30 p.m. with the Military Commanders and their Staff playing against the Mayors, Council People, Chamber Presidents and Managers.

Following the V.I.P. game will be the Championship Softball game between Monterey and Navy teams. Men's Volleyball between Seaside and Navy teams and women's Volleyball

K-Mart Furor Not Abated

Proposition 20, the coast protection law, may have already cost the City of Seaside as much as $100,000, Councilman Joe Cota charged at the last City Council meeting.

He stated a report is now being prepared showing how much the city has had to put out because of the state's dilly dallying over the K-Mart shopping center in the Laguna Grande redevelopment project. "We're subsidizing the rest of the state because everyone wants a pretty coast but no one wants to pay for it," Cota declared.

Cota's remarks came in response to a question from Fred Mitchell, a Seaside businessman and one of the 48 who signed the appeal from the approval of the K-Mart project by the Central Coast Regional Conservation Commission.

Mitchell wanted to know who paid the expenses of the five-man delegation that represented the city and development agency at the meeting held in Eureka of the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission at which the appeal was heard.

Concerts Help SCARE Drive

Profits from the Paul Masson "Vintage Sounds" jazz and folk music series at the Paul Masson Mountain Vineyard in Saratoga were donated to S.C.A.R.E., a Bay Area sickle cell anemia research and education organization.

Artis Hicks, Executive Director of S.C.A.R.E., received a check in the amount of $2,500 from Paul Masson at a supper at the Mountain Vineyard celebrating the final performance in which Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee played their warm blues style to a capacity audience at the outdoor Vineyard setting. The month-long weekend series also featured Jon Hendricks, George Shearing, Ramblin' Jack Elliot, tap dancer "Baby" Lawrence, Robbie Basho, the San Francisco Strutters, and Tewie, Simon & Philip.

In accepting the check from Peter Carisetti, Vice President of Browne Vintners which produced the concerts in association with Paul Masson, Hicks stated that the monies would be used toward the purchase of a mobile testing unit for the outer reach communities of the Bay Area.

"I'd like to extend S.C.A.R.E.'s heartfelt thanks to the folks at Paul Masson for the generous, desperately needed contribution. This moves our organization much closer to the realization of a 3-year goal to acquire the testing unit even without the support which we hoped from other sources," Hicks said.

Meeting Planned

The Monterey County Chapter of The Retired Officers Association will hold its next general meeting Wednesday, October 17, at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey. Retired and active duty officers of all military services are invited to attend.

A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., with dinner at 7:30, followed by the business meeting at 8:30.

For further information and dinner reservations telephone Captain Roy Gordon, 394-9187, or Major Grace Menzies, 375-8477.

Universal Studios Honoring Veterans

Universal Studios will roll out its red carpet this week for some 500 American veterans.

The visitors are patients from five southern California veteran's hospitals, including Brentwood, Sepulveda, Wadsworth, San Diego and Long Beach.

Beginning Friday, October 12th, about 100 patients a day from each of the hospitals will tour the glitter and glamour world of Universal Studios.

The gesture is part of a two-week long tribute to American veterans in honor of Veteran's Day, October 22.

The week of October 19-22 will be dedicated to all veterans and members of the armed forces. During the week, all military and civilian

Counseling Program Is Success

Evening counseling sessions on "How to Get a GI Loan" have been attended by more veterans than Veterans Administration officials expected, according to J.E. Mullen, director of the VA Regional Office in San Francisco.

"It was planned that each veteran would be counseled individually and privately," Mr. Mullen explained, "but many veterans appeared without an appointment, resulting in a seminar or question-and-answer session with a group, rather than the private visits originally planned."

"No veteran who phoned in for an appointment was denied a private visit," Mullen assured, "but the drop-ins without appointment had to accept the question-and-answer from a group session."

Interviewers were rather surprised to find many veterans who had applied for GI loans previously, but were denied them for one reason or another, coming to find out just what it took for them to qualify.

The new evening counseling began last week in Oakland San Jose. The VA is assigning employees who actually okay GI loans to run these sessions, and disadvantaged or minority veterans will probably find a GI loan specialist of the same ethnic origin as they are to explain the details to them.

The "How to Get a GI Loan" counseling in San Jose is offered at the American GI Forum, 1680 East Santa Clara Street, on Wednesday evenings from 5:30 to 8. Appointments are available by calling (408) 258-0663 between 8 and 5 weekdays.

Individual interviews with the GI Loan processors are available by appointment only, and drop-ins without appointment will probably have to settle for group question-and-answer sessions.

CHP To Try Blue Lights

Rotating blue lights will join the familiar red and amber warning lights on patrol cars of the California Highway Patrol. For the first time, light bars incorporating blue are being installed on top of CHP cars in the San Francisco bay area, the Los Angeles region and San Diego.

The experimental roof-mounted units also include an electronic siren and a public address system.

The blue lights are the result of research which showed blue to be more visible at night and red during the day. Thus red and blue will be combined in the light bar and will operate simultaneously under emergency conditions.

By the first of the year about 150 of the new light bars will be in operation, and by spring over 300 will have been installed on new patrol cars in the three metropolitan areas. Ultimately all CHP patrol cars will be equipped.

Oppose Prop. 1

A campaign to insure the defeat of Proposition 1 in the November election is being urged by the California College and University Faculty Association (CCUFA).

Citing the "threat to adequate financing of higher education in California" posed by Governor Reagan's tax initiative, CCUFA officers, CCUFA Chapter presidents from CSUC campuses throughout the State, and Association representatives voted unanimously this week to encourage its individual members to participate in the campaign.

Of major concern to the college professors is the provision suggesting new tuition costs for students in the CSUC system. Should Proposition 1 pass, students and their parents would be expected to raise $121,000,000 currently coming from the State for higher education.

"We also urge all other faculty associations - AAUP, ACSUP and CSEA - to join with us in opposing what can only result in a downgrading of our college and university programs," commented Dr. William D. Crist, CCUFA president.

Crist, who is an Associate Professor of economics at CSU, Stanislaus, pointed out that students unable to meet their new financial obligations will have nowhere to turn for assistance, forcing them to drop out of the 19 CSUC universities and colleges.

Under our present system, our elected representatives can vote against financing unnecessary projects. And the Governor has the right to veto any item in the budget that he feels is an unnecessary expense. Proposition 1 replaces this needed human flexibility of representative government with very complex, detailed constitutional provisions.

In our next article we shall consider the second important objection: the Initiative would make it nearly impossible to obtain a more equitable tax system and to close tax loopholes.

C of C Progress Report

by Verlaine Crawford

Have you seen any rain since Sunday, October 7? No, of course not! It's been sunny and bright ever since. Why did it have to rain on our Picnic? Well, the major reason, I feel, is that there were too many things planned for that particular day. The Kiwanis had scheduled a golf tournament. Jim Wester had a Company Picnic planned. And of course, that was the day for our Military-Community "Olde Fashioned Picnic." We just tempted the gods by planning too many outdoor events for one day.

Anyway, the "Olde Fashioned Picnic" has been rescheduled for Sunday, October 28 from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the Monterey County Fairgrounds. If it should rain, we have reserved the Agricultural Building to hold the picnic, entertainment and awards ceremonies.

It should be a great day, starting with the V.I.P. Softball game at 12:30 p.m. with the Military Commanders playing the Mayors and Council People. Events will include the Championship Softball and Volleyball games, Children's games such as Sack races, pie eating contests and a baby diaper derby, plus softball, basketball and football throws, a free barbecue (tickets needed to get in), and awards for outstanding people of the year from each military installation and each city, plus drawings for free dinners for two at local restaurants, 5 portable radios and 2 barbecue grills.

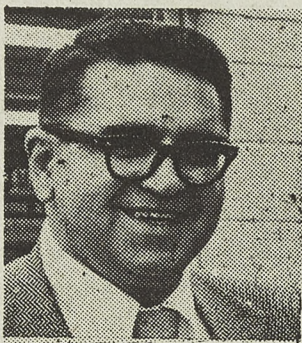

Tickets which were given for the 7th will be good for the 28th. Some stores still have tickets...they should phone the Chamber so we can give out information where people may still pick up free tickets. You must have a ticket to get in and enjoy the barbecue. If you don't get a ticket at a local store and want to come, tickets will be 50 cents a piece at the gate. The tickets are free at the merchants, since they have paid the 50¢ for their customers to help pay for the barbecue. We need to have advance sales and pick up of tickets, because we need to know how many people will be coming, or approximately -- can you imagine preparing a barbecue for 5000 people? I can't! That's why we're so lucky to have volunteers working with the Chambers of Commerce who will donate their time to help make this a reality.

(Actually, I get nervous preparing dinner for 8, let alone trying to feed 5000 -- the volunteers, including Sgt. Bill Brown and John Logan of Cypress Press, Victor Phillbrook and Maj. Dale Michelson, have all been working hard on the food committee and they guarantee me that everything is taken care of). Ray Stepiak of MBS has been doing a tremendous job coordinating all the committees. Bob McCauley of Cardinal Moving and Storage and Al Vasconcellos of Gregg Shankle Realty (Marina Chamber also), plus Bill Houle of Equitable Life Assurance have been doing a great job selling tickets -- over 9000 tickets are out at this time.

J.J. Jones, Seaside Recreation Department; Ben Omoto of Monterey Recreation Dept.; Larry Sparks, Recreation Director of the Naval Postgraduate School and Ben King of Special Services Sports Fort Ord have been organizing the sports activities. Heidi Steudler, Special Services Fort Ord, has been setting up entertainment. There probably are names I have left out, but I'm running out of space. More next week...

Luguna Grande Costs

Recently, the California State Supreme Court upheld a lower court's finding that vested rights of developers with substantial commitments, who commenced their projects prior to February 1, 1973, are protected and exempted from the provisions of Proposition 20. Seaside's Laguna Grande Project, which is over four years old and already has the City of Seaside committed in excess of one million dollars, qualifies for this exemption. Last May, the Central Coastal Regional Commission denied Seaside's exemption application request.

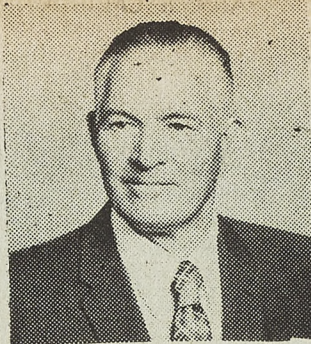

The City of Seaside has initiated and filed a lawsuit against the State of California in the Monterey County Superior Court. Our suit, which will have its first hearing on Thursday, October 25, 1973 demands that the exemption be granted and that, further, the City should be awarded as a minimum $100,000 to recompense us for excessive costs accruing and still growing.

We have developed some startling figures on costs which are piling up due to the delays on the Laguna Grande Project because of Proposition 20 mechanics. As a direct result the City will have to forego about $60,000 of the amount that we would have acquired on land sale. This is directly due to Proposition 20. In addition to this, the redesign necessitated by negotiating with the Regional Commission and involving primarily the new elevation on Route 218 realignment will cost an additional $40,000 in fill material. The cost of placing the storm drain parallel to Route 218 to prevent runoff from paved areas entering Roberts Lake will add another $10,000 to the project. To this $110,000 amount must be added a minimum of $15,000, which is a combination of additional consultant work, models, engineering redesign, administrative costs, plus travel, meals, phone bills, and meetings.

We may easily isolate this $125,000 additional costs, and to that would have to be added the unknown factors of increased costs of construction, depending upon the time of starting. A conservative estimate would probably add $24,000 and therefore, at this point in time, we are actually looking at $150,000 of increased costs to Laguna Grande Project directly attributable to Proposition 20.

As I See It

by Mel Vercoe

The rise and fall of Spiro Agnew taught us one great lesson and left one big question unanswered. It showed us how ridiculous it is that we select vice-presidents for their political values or fundraising abilities during campaigns rather than for their integrity and their ability to handle the Presidency job if needed. And for years there will be speculation about the leniency accorded the vice-president by direct order from Mr. Nixon. Was Mr. Agnew's future silence part of the deal by which he escaped a long prison term?

I can't believe any intelligent observer can swallow the idea that Agnew resigned to save our country the embarrassment of a long trial. The prosecutors had him cold. In the words of Agnew's prosecutor, "He would have been sentenced to a very large number of years in the federal penitentiary and should have been. You could say he got a very good deal."

Of equal importance to our future is the oil embargo the Arabs are going to place on shipments to America if we continue to sympathize with Israel. We have allowed ourselves to become so dependent on Middle East oil that cutting it off would be like stepping on the oxygen line of a patient in a hospital. To placate the Arabs by not aiding Israel still leaves the U.S. at their mercy, which means that to be realistic we may have to consider steps that would take the oil control away from the Arabs.

Europe is almost wholly dependent on Middle East oil; Japan and the U.S. will soon be in the same fix. We can't blame the Arabs for hiking the price when they have a monopoly on the supply, because that is what our big American producers have just done, but we cannot base our nation's survival for the next hundred years on the whims of some very unpredictable people deeply involved in a very idiotic war over religious differences.

Which means probable American active involvement in the Middle East sometime within the near future, even at the risk of a direct confrontation with the Russians, and regardless of whether our action would be legal or moral or just plain profitable for our war industries, as most wars are. Russia, of course, would not allow Israel to be wiped out, because the Arabs would then no longer need Soviet aid and Russians could no longer use the Arab-Israeli conflict to heckle the U.S.

So, we have a difficult choice. We can die a natural death for lack of fuel to supply our rapidly increasing demands, or we can risk ten or twenty years of war or maybe a quick death if it goes nuclear in an effort to guarantee our oil supply. Not a pretty picture, but this is the grim reality of living in a world morally not equipped to handle the problems arising out of its greed and over-technology and over-population.

He has been described as "an exciting young pianist who has achieved a mastery of his instrument that allows him the freedom to fully express some refreshing new ideas in music, and has developed an important new voice for contemporary improvisatory music."

Duke has toured extensively and recorded with Don Ellis, Bobby Hutcherson, John Handy, Lalo Schiffrin, Quincy Jones, Dizzy Gillespie and many other top name artists. He has also played in the 1969 Monterey Jazz Festival.

Altar Society Reorganizing

The Altar Society of St. Francis Xavier Parish, is reorganizing its members in order to form a stronger force in parish activities. Father Larry Kambitsch, spiritual director for the group stressed the importance of the group in a parish by saying it could make great contributions to the financial, social and spiritual welfare of the community.

The group, first formed in 1952, has already met to discuss lost his life trying to rescue storm-bound motorists received the State's highest civilian award for heroism on Tuesday, October 16. Governor Reagan presented the Medal of Valor to the widow of Harvey Robert Huss who was killed last February 11 in a rock and mud slide on Highway One a few miles south of Big Sur.

Mrs. Mary Dasinger Huss will accept the Metal of Valor on behalf of her late husband at a ceremony in the State Capitol at 11:30 Tuesday morning. It will be the second such award ever made posthumously in the State's history.

Bob Huss was 25 when he gave his life during a volunteer rescue mission on a dark and storm-wracked night last winter. Responding to a call for help from an entrapped motorist on the narrow route along the Monterey coastal cliffs, he had cleared several lesser slides with his skip loader when he and his big rig were swept nearly to the sea by a huge washout at Lafler Canyon. Immediate rescue attempts proved too dangerous as long as the slide continued active and Huss' body was not recovered until total reconstruction of the roadway started last month.

Besides his widow, Mary Frances, Huss is survived by his son Robert L. aged 2; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Huss; a brother, Raymond Huss and a grandfather, H.E. Waldroupe, all of Salinas. His sister, Mrs. Anita Laywell, lives in Columbus, Ohio.

Huss was a Navy veteran of the Vietnam conflict and a member of VFW Post 3138 of Pismo Beach. He was a native of San Luis Obispo.

He had been employed by the California State Division of Highways.

Reinecke Named Chairman Of Lt. Governors Group

Lt. Governor Ed Reinecke has been elected chairman of the National Conference of Lieutenant Governors. Reinecke replaces Lt. Gov. Martin J. Schreiber of Wisconsin as chairman.

In accepting the chairmanship, Reinecke called for "...leadership on the part of the lieutenant governors organization to study issues that cross state boundaries."

Reinecke cited the results of a survey conducted by the organization into the attitudes, policies and programs of the 50 states and U.S. territories in relation to the energy issue as "the first step for a new posture for our organization."

"Just as we showed we can systematically study an issue such as energy," Reinecke said,

"we must in the coming year use the same approach to survey and recommend courses of action on other issues that affect all Americans."

Reinecke said that to effectively influence federal government actions the states must approach Washington in a unified manner by offering concepts of innovative leadership.

"Fifty states talking to Washington as one, will have more effect than 50 separate voices," he said. "We can and must, as an organization representing our individual states, study and make decisions that we can pursue as one group if we really want to let federal government know we are against the growing bureaucracy of Washington to take the power from the states," he said.

GolfTourney Announced

Golf West Inc., of Beverly Hills, worldwide distributors of Confidence golf equipment manufactured by Mader Products Inc., are pleased to announce the Second Annual Confidence Pro-Am Invitational Golf Tournament, to be held December 27 thru 30, 1973, at Laguna Seca Golf Ranch, and Corral de Tierra Golf and Country Club, on California's beautiful and historic Monterey Peninsula.

The 72 hole, 4-day medal play tournament will pay a total purse of $50,000, with $10,000 going to the winner, $5,000 to the runner-up and $2,500 to the 3rd place finisher. Among those shooting for the top prize money will be 16 of the country's top touring PGA players, including reigning U.S. Open Champion Johnny Miller; defending Los Angeles Open king Rod Funseth; George Archer, former Masters Champion; Orville Moody, former U.S. Open winner; E. Harvie Ward, twice U.S. Amateur Champion who recently turned pro; and defending champion Rafe Botts of Los Angeles.

Also entered are such outstanding tour players as Jim Wiechers, Jim Colbert, Jerry Heard, Forrest Fezler, Butch Baird, Dick Lotz, and Pete Brown. Joining the 16 touring pros will be 44 club pros, many of them PGA Sectional Champions, and 180 amateurs in this prelude to the 1974 PGA tour, which begins the following week with the Bing Crosby Clambake also set for the Monterey Peninsula.

Tournament Director Larry Wheat, Executive Vice President of Golf West Inc., announced that the format calls for four-man teams, one professional and three amateurs with maximum handicaps of 18, to participate on a team best-ball basis over the 72 holes, with each 3-man amateur team playing with a different professional each day. The pros will carry their medal score forward in search of the first place money of $10,000 and will also carry forward their team's best ball as they shoot for the Pro-Am top money.

Harold Firstman, Assistant Tournament Director and Host Professional at Laguna Seca Golf Ranch, and Host Professional Bob Pegis of Corral de Tierra Golf and Country Club are anticipating large galleries who will want to see this outstanding field in action. The proceeds of the event will go for a very worthy cause, that of the American Cancer Society. Ken Young, Director of Sales of Golf West Inc., and Tom Casazza, President of Golden West Golf Inc. of San Francisco, are Tournament Co-Chairmen, with Golf West President Mal Alberts acting as Tournament Supervisor.
